PREFACE

We, the Senior Class of the Fortis Central School, proudly present our first yearbook, "THE HIGHLANDER." We have undertaken it publication to convey to everyone the many activities, both curricular and extra curricular, enjoyed by the student body.

For many of us, June 1958 means the end of carefree days. In the past year, our paths have been guided by our parents, teachers and friends. Now, we must go forth on a wider field of life to meet the challenges of adulthood. We feel that because of the knowledge, the understanding, and the friendship given to us by our Principal and our teachers, we are qualified to face whatever problems life may have in store for us.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who assisted us in making this book a success. It is our hope that the "HIGHLANDER" will lead those who follow us on the road to higher education.

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1958, dedicate this yearbook "THE HIGHLANDER," to Mr. Vincent P. Tedesco in appreciation for the help, understanding, and wisdom he has shown us in the years he was with us.

We, the Class of 1958, dedicate also, this issue of "THE HIGHLANDER," to Mr. Owen G. Parsons in gratitude for the help extended to us in the compilation of this yearbook.

POEM
We the class
Of fifty eight,
Here waited and hoped
For this approaching date.
It means that we
Alone will be,
What it's like,
We'll wait and see.
'Cause we are free
We're happy and glad,
She leaving the classroom
Makes us quite sad.
Alone in the world,
Our support to earn,
We'll thank our teachers-
They made us learn.
We did not like it,
'Cause they made us learn;
But now this,
For school we yearn.

Patty Bergeron
Is leaving us two,
And that means you.
Francis Bishop
Is the social kind,
About leaving school-
Let her make up her mind.
Joan Buchanan,
As you can guess,
Will win the Sophy
For P.H.S.
Donna Collyer
Owns a horse;
But about leaving school,
She has remorse.
Bill Dwory
The quiet type,
He is quite friendly
To the one he doth like.

Sheila Kenyon
Is quite tall,
And handsome boys
She doth enthrall.
Baxie MacDougall
Will also go.
Will she like it?
She still doesn't know.
Dick Mack, a Gent,
Customized his car.
He won a trophy —
The best by far.
Teddy Moskal
Is a friend;
And making more of them
Is his trend.
Nancy Nabors,
A red head is dream,
Wedding bells
Will be the theme.
Dick Sherman
doeth shine.
He sinks those baskets
From the center line
Carolyn Smith
Has a sunny smile;
And seems to use it
All the while.

We'll put Russ Hamilton
In our Hall of Fame,
Induction in the fall,
Shame him temporarily loses.
A young man named Pete Helke,
A joker 'Ya, too,
Would give the shirt
Off his back to you,
Shelly Keranos
Is quite tall,
And handsome boys
She doth enthrall.
Paul MacCordill
Will also go;
Will she like it?
She still doesn't know.
Dick Marsh, a Gent,
Customized his car.
He won a trophy —
The best by far.
CLASS HISTORY

As we, the seniors of 1958, think of the short time until graduation, we survey the past and see the shadows we have cast during our high school career.

When we entered our first year of high school as freshmen, we knew nothing compared to what we know now. There were twenty-six students with Mr. Tedesco and Mr. Redmond as advisors. That year, we chose class officers. Patricia Mazur acted as president, Russell Hamilton as vice-president, Nancy Nabors as secretary, and Harold Hemstreet as treasurer. Mr. Tedesco contributed much to our class as he guided us through many activities. Our projects that first year were selling Jello, school supplies and all Occasion Cards. We also had food sales and sponsored a spaghetti supper which proved to be very successful.

Having grown a little wiser, we now enter our sophomore year. This year our class had lost four boys and three girls, leaving a total of nineteen students. We gained only one new student. Mr. Tedesco and Mr. Redmond were class advisors. Once more we elected class officers with Richard Sherman as president, Jack Mowery as vice-president, Barbara Kline as secretary and Russell Hamilton as treasurer. Our projects that year were selling magazines, a dance, which we called the "Soft Foot" raffle for a clock-radio, a paper drive and our annual spaghetti supper.

Entering our junior year, we now found that half of our high school days were gone. We had one student, increasing our number to twenty. Once more we advisor, Mr. Tedesco and Mr. Redmond. Our class officers this year were Russell Hamilton as president, Peter Herba as vice-president, Patricia Berghoff as secretary, and Joan Buchanan as treasurer. Our projects of the year were a paper drive, selling candy, a turkey raffle, the annual spaghetti supper and the compilation and sale of our school paper, THE JUNIOR INFORMER.

As we, the senior class of 1958, enter our final year, we suddenly realize that our future depends entirely upon the last four years of high school. Our class, greatly decreased, now consists of fourteen students. Officers this year are Mrs. White and Mr. Redmond. Elections for our senior year showed the following: president-Richard Sherman, vice-president-Richard Mack, secretary-Patricia Berghoff and treasurer-Shelley Kneyon. Mrs. White has directed us through this year, helping us plan our Senior Trip to Washington and New York City. In order to obtain sufficient funds for this trip, we are engaged in the following activities: Our Senior play, "ABSOLUTELY MURDER," the senior ball, our sale of Christmas cards, a dance, and a variety show. As we patiently await the final commencement exercises of Perth Central School, our beloved Alma Mater, we step out of our student role, wishing our fellow classmates good luck now and in the future.

CLASS PROPHECY

As the world marches on, we the Senior Class of 1958 find ourselves in the midst of world confusion and believe it necessary to combine our efforts for the sole purpose of reaching our superior earth satellite, the moon. In our race for the supremacy of the skies, our organization has searched for a great professor to head the project. After searching the world over and going to great extremes, we have discovered within our own group a mad scientist, THEODORE MOSKAL, who furthered his education in the Stalingrad Nursery School in Russia. Helping with his massive project is his wife-assistant, better known to her classmates as CAROLYN SMITH.

Contributing their abilities are the engineers, BILL DWORAK, RICHARD MACK, and the only woman engineer, DONNA COLLYER. Chosen to be the privileged few to reach the moon are the nurse, BARBARA MAC DOUGALL, and the doctor, RUSS HAMILTON, who volunteered to search for the renowned green girls. Going to establish the first rock and roll station on the moon is the disc jockey, DICK SHERMAN, who will spin the famous folk song of NANCY NABORS—"Charley, My Boy."

After days of travel, we successfully reach our destination. Our first glimpse is of two strange creatures—PAT BERGERON and JOAN BUCHANAN, who seem to be filling the craters with green cheese. We are greeted by two green girls—SHEILA KENYON and FRANCES BISHOP who take us to their leader, PETE HERBA. He escorts us around the moon and shows us their moonshine and green cheese factories. After our excursion, we head back to our rocket ship and descend to earth. On our way, we hear the top tune of the universe, "It Was Only A Paper Moon."

This memory lingers on as we look back to our memorable years as the Class of 1958.
